HONGKONG, FRIDAY, FEB. 12, 1869.

IT will be seen by our report of to-day's other wing at once at Galle. Further, the proceedings in the Supreme Court that 75th Regiment is to come down here from the Attorney General invited the Chief Hongkong. Somebody should be whipped Justice's attention to an article of our's blunders which the Horse Guards have obtaining an informal injunction against our publishing any comments on the case of Regina v. Saint, during its progress. We shall take an early opportunity of referring to this matter; in the meantime must defend ourselves against charge of unveracity. We have quoted in our report that part of the article to is not all, -for great hardship and loss which the Attorney General specially must be entailed on the Officers of the two objected. He said, "With regard to the posted on board the Packet from 8.30 paragraph which I have read, I distinctly assert that I said nothing that would of 48 cents each, in addition to the warrant the passage in question." We postage, after which no Letters can be refer him and our readers to our report of what he did say, and leave it to them to say whether we had any warranty or not for what we said. The Attorney General committed another error when he quoted Tichbourne v. Tichbourne as a case in full point against defendant There defendants had published an affidavit. We simply commented on the language of an Attorney General, and drew charged with a fine of One Shilling in an inference which we think quite legitimate, and which-if the Attorney neral will forgive us for saying seems to us fully supported by the line the Late Fee as well as the postage is of conduct he has adopted in regard to this very melantholy case of Regina v.

OUR "SECRET SERVICE" DEPARTMENT

PRACTICE has of late been growing up in connection with those departments of the Colonial Government connected with the preservation of peace and order in the Colony which seems to us likely to result in the establishment of a most dangerous precedent. We allude to the extra-official employment of civilians. whether as directors of the powerful therein specified will either be received We would not be understood to object or given in change as fractional parts | to the use by government of any private information it can obtain towards the aid of experienced residents, such aid bis chance of its recovery. being in strict subordination to the dulyconstituted officials of the Police and Gaol Departments. Nor are we basing our objections upon any individual question whatever. But we do object to the fact of cases which strictly belong to the detective portion of the police being "placed in the hands" of any outsider whatever. If it be found that there exists an absolute necessity for the services of a civilian in these matters we can only say that, in the first place, it reflects disgrace on our Colonial organization that one of our many govornmental departments cannot furnish an official whose acquaintance with the language and the people is sufficient to deal with the state of affairs which renders such extra aid a sine qua non; and secondly, we assert our conviction that if extra aid be indispensable, under such circumstances, it is a matter of important strength of the force with a duly recogthe present system, which practically demonstrates to the Native population that the government is far less powerful than civilians whom it does not even nominally employ, is exceedingly hurtful to its reputation. More than that, the such a great power as undoubtedly does lie in the hands of some of the community can be used for any other purposes danger which may attend the placing in non-official hands of too great a power for influencing the native population. Many reasons combine to make such a course high-as a branch of the government. And if any further arguments be necessary we may urge it on behalf of the individuals thus employed themselves, their invidious position tending neither to their own credit nor to that of the government which thus informally employs them.

THE War Office and Horse Guards have achieved so high a reputation in the art of blundering that nothing emanating from such sources gives one much surprise. We had however hitherto supposed that as regarded the movements of troops in China and the Straits we were likely to be exempt from the evil effects of such blinders, even if they were made, transit being costly and somewhat difficult to obtain, and a sense of justice preventing those made uncomfortable by a first move being further harassed by transfer to a new locality. The following however from the Straits Times would seem to shew that Hongkong is to bear its share of the victimizing :__

The French mail is said to have brought out a telegram from the Horse Guards, to the effect, that the Head quarters of H.M.'s 73rd Regiment's being stationed here was all a mistake, and that it must rejoin the very soundly for the concatenation of made in this matter. The Himalaya was here only the other day with the 75th Regiment on board, which she took up to Hongkong, bringing back the 73rd-a portion of whom she then took on to Galle, Now the 75th Regiment must come down here again from Hongkong and the wing of the 73rd must go on to Galle. This is the way the State's money is wasted, but that Regiments, who are thus ordered away after having perhaps bought furniture &c., and just settled down;

LOCAL.

THE men supposed to be implicated in the murder of the late Mr Holworthy were brought up this afternoon, and again remanded for a week.

THE Chinese thieves are proverbially devoid of all respect of persons, about this season of the year, and all sorts of fish would appear to find their way to their net while the additional excitement of the holidays lasts. We do not often hear, however, of a policeman being robbed-much less an officer in a detective department. This phenomenon has notwithstanding been familiarly illustrated in this corner of the world, and the reputation of the Colony for wonderful occurrences has been much strengthened thereby. The Chief of the Policewith reverence be it spoken-had his pocket picked of a watch and chain the other night, while on an exploring or recreative expedition to the Sing-song in the Taipingshan quarter; and-with amazement be it also said—the distinguished officer alluded to and the pick-pocket who removed the property would seem to have been so "mixed" and commingled that the latter got off with the produce of his daring dishonesty. An insignificant boy is in custody on remaud, charged on suspicion, but Mr Deane has not as yet identified the prisecret machinery which exists for check- watch and appendages. We have heard of ing the Chinese, or as belonging to the even Sir Richard Mayne being robbed in less obtrusive, but not less useful, class | the street; but whether the pick-pocket in 1864, and no other Coins, but those of natives who act as spies and informers, that instance was allowed to get off so easily, deponent said not. It is to be hoped that the Acting Captain Superintendent may recover his property: he need not however, post up any drawing of it with Chinese description, because that will lesson

Burlingame and Lord Clarendon, the new British Foreign Minister, had an interview to-day, wherein they agreed upon the principles of the future British policy to be adopted toward China. Lord Clarendon, in reviewing former conversations, fully acknowledged the propriety and justice of several points which Mr Burlingame ad-In reference to the policy which he deemed it desirable that England should pursue, Burlingame held that the objects of the present mission showed evident signs of progress, and by no means evideed a retrograde disposition on the part of the Chinese Government. He also deprecated the practice of the Western Powers in using an unfriendly pressure to introduce new systems or new ideas among a people whose knowledge of foreign affairs is of recent origin, or who were fostered under a traditional system to which they were accustomed and attached, because such a repressive policy would tend to revolution, and would repress progress; whereas the Chinese Government fully admitted the necessity of progress, and desired to encourage it gradually, without a sudden shock to the feelings, passions, or prejudices of the people. Lord Clarendon, in the trade and business of a butcher for reply, fully admitted that the Chinese were entitled to forbearance from foreign nations, and assured Burlingame that England did not desire nor intend to apply any unfriendly pressure, in order to induce China to advance more rapidly in her intercourse with foreign nations, than was consistent with the safety and feelings of the Chinese people. The following articles were then agreed to between Lord Clarendon and Mr Burlingame;

First-It is necessary to observe loyally all stipulations. Second-All negotiations should be conducted with the central Government, and not with the local authorities. Third-Before inaugurating war, disputes should be referred to the Home Govern-to inform the Court of the decision which had been come to by the Government, and of the steps which he had been instructed to take, with reference to the information. The C. J. replied that if the communica tion was put before the Court as coming from the Government he would hear it. The A. G. : This case having excited good deal of public interest, I thought it my duty, on arrival in the Colony, to communicate with the Government about it. They have given it every consideration, with a result which I am about to communicate to the Court. In order that there should be no sort of mistake in the matter, I thought it the most convenient course to send an official letter to the Crown Solicitor. embodying the resolve of Government, and I think, instead of making any observations untside it, I may be permitted to read it, and then the Court can say whether it will hear anything further on the matter. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMENT HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. HIS Medicine is universally admitted

Lato be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may maure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Ointment, as it cares atter all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-

The author in his Preface says :- "The tables in Chap, VII., for estimating prices, measurement of goods, exchanges, &c., have been selected from those constantly in use among the foreign merchants in Chins. Those for calculating the prices of tea in dollars or pence have been copied from the more extended tables, by the kind permission of the author, P. Lopreiro, Esq., The ast section of the same chapter on Movements in Bullion," has been prepared and furnished for the Guide by Patrick R. Harper, Esq., of the Commercial Bank of India at Hongkong, who has had much experience in the exchanges and movements of the precious metals in Eastern Asia.

perience in the exchanges and movements of the precious metals in Eastern Asia.

The Appendix of Sailing Directions has been reprinted from the China Pilot. With short interruptions, the coasts from Singapore to Hakodadi are all described in it; and for the Chinese coasts, the Directions have been improved by the insertion of the Chinese characters for the names of all places that could be ascertained."
